Forgotten Books, 2017. Hardback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Practice Reports in the Supreme Court and Court of Appeals, Vol. 33: Of the State of New York When the law invests a public body with the power to do such an act, in express terms, the act to be done becomes the less Objectionable, inasmuch as the persons who consti tute that body are selected for the purpose, and the restrain ing power of the courts should be exercised against them, if at all, with great caution. The history Of the laws crea ting boards Of health in this city and throughout the state, and in other states and countries, if it were proper to delay the decision of this motion to demonstrate it, will show that extraordinary authority in reference to the general course of legal procedure, has been conferred on the persons charged with the duties of preserving the public health. It is proper that it should be so to prevent the spread of epi demies, and the fearful mortality which ensues, and is kin-3 dred to the power which is given to the mayor and others to destroy buildings, in case they deem them likely to take fire, or to convey fire to other buildings (2 Rev. Laws 1813, p. 300, 80) all resting upon the doctrine of necessity, which becomes imperious in its demands. The Board of Health may and should be regarded as the representatives Of the people of this city on the subject for which they were organized, to be aided in all respects in the lawful exercise of their authority, which looks to the high and noble duty Of preserving health and saving life.
